andiechen For a really long time, I have wanted to create a website for my acting profile. Producers and casting directors have been asking for it but I have always been too caught up with work to get it done.

Making the most of the #circuitbreaker, I finally had a crack at it! Honestly, whoever says creating a website is easy is lying. It's hard work! Thankfully, with the support and help from Lawrence Chai and the team at @3ecpasg, my website is now up and running. Through the provision of efficient, effective and economical professional services, the team at 3e are also assisting with the set up of @vagabondmedia.sg, my newly established production company.

If you are looking for support with website design, professional corporate secretarial and accounting, go checkout 3E's website at www.3ecpa.com.sg.
